

COMENIUS – description of the project

Zespół Szkół Technicznych in Cieszyn

All the groups of students of various specializations will be engaged in the accomplishment of the project.

The topic:

`My Town and Region as a Cradle of Technology, Enterprise and Style.`

The content:

The project is going to deal with an exchange of information on the history, the present day and future of technical and craftsman`s professions in our town and region. It assumes recognition of elementary technical rules and principles in the historical background which are eternally alive and still essential in shaping contemporary economy and style of life.

The operating aims:

They appear from the goals of European Union cohesive policy in order to increase human capital through better education and strategy of our province and partner schools` regions where especially important is the development of vital economical branches which have a strong impact on education. The project is supposed to release creativity and develop students` initiative, rouse their individual skills and abilities, enrich didactic methods and lastly, reinforce the quality and dimension of European education.

The educational aims:

- theoretical

- comprehension and recognition of the basic technical principles and rules
- learning about various craftsman`s techniques
- learning about the history of technical and craftsman`s profession
- recognizing contemporary technologies and direction of their development
- recognizing of numerous materials used in production
- recognizing the ways of educating future technicians and craftsmen
- shaping the awareness of importance of learning and acquiring new qualifications through our lifetime
- understanding the process of shaping styles

- practical

- acquiring basic skills and competences necessary for personal development and future employment
- developing innovation in technology and style
- practical application of recognized technical principles and rules
- creating own innovative projects in technology and craft
- developing language competences
- improvement of the former students` situation taking into consideration the adaptation of professional education to the market needs by promoting the region and shaping attitude towards enterprise

- cultural

- developing knowledge about a wide variety of cultures and European languages
- reinforcement of students` mobility
- changing of stereotyped notions about the partners and ourselves
- developing awareness of our own regional, national identity and also attachment to the big European family